ABOUT THESE GUIDELINES

Howard Johnson design guidelines have been developed as a tool illustrating how to apply design solutions to conversion/renovation properties and for use upon product life-cycle replacement.

Use these guidelines to keep your property competitive within the current hospitality market and to maintain high levels of guest satisfaction, as well as to retain existing market share and to attract the next generation of hotel guests.

The design elements explained in this guide can be adapted to a variety of property configurations and are a master plan for maintaining the value of your hotel asset and strong brand identity. The following pages show the design features as a “kit of parts” for implementation using both the iconic gate lodge and conversion building types for illustrative purposes.

brand signature elements

What would Howard Johnson do if he were developing a hotel today? He would create a hotel that is forward thinking, modern, and for the kid-at-heart.

Brand signature elements have been developed for Howard Johnson that embody the moving-to-the-future vision of the brand's founder.

Using classic modern design, a bold color palette with a nod to the past, and inspired by vintage Howard Johnson advertisements, brand signature elements are identified with the  symbol.

color scheme

Inspired by the memorable graphics of the original Howard Johnson ice cream trucks and the distinctive orange roofs of the iconic gate lodge buildings, the paint schemes establish a strong visual identity for the brand.

Modern versions of vanilla bean, orange and turquoise are used for accent materials, finishes, fabrics, furniture, building design elements, and paint schemes to evoke a sense of nostalgia and fun.

GUEST SATISFACTION

In 2010, 65% of Travelocity customers said green ratings influence their selection when prices are the same and 10.8% said green ratings influence their selection when prices aren't the same. In a 2012, study conducted by TripAdvisor, 69% of travelers said they plan to make more eco-friendly choices in the next 12 months.

According to the 2010 GBTA Travel Executive update, 30% of Corporate Travel Managers said they include "green" in their policies and RFP requests. Over 51% of meeting planners will hold meetings only in sustainable venues and over 73% deliberately avoid destinations or venues with poor environmental records. For Wyndham Hotel Group, RFPs are worth over $100M in business to our hotels. According to the 2013 Global Business Traveler Survey, 47% of business travelers say it is important to stay in a green certified hotel during a business trip and 7% consider this extremely important. Green certified properties can be listed on the WHG website, TripAdvisor or green sections of third-party sites.
